Peace Day In Canada

Concluding an address before the Canadian Club at Vancouver at a luncheon given in his honor, Lt. Col. Purvey, Dominion President of the Great War Veterans of Canada, said: "Overseas we used frequently to hear that song 'There's a long, long trail aching into the land of my dreams.' The G.W.V.A. are determined that this Dominion of ours shall be the land of our dreams, the land we have hoped for, the land we are prepared to live, and strive for. We realize that it is no easy road we have to travel that will bring us to our goal. Through iron sacrifice of body, will and soul alone can we reach it—there is no other road."

These noble and inspiring words are just what was to be expected from the leader of that brave and gallant body of men who fought for and saved Canada when everything that our people hold dear was threatened and in danger of being lost to us. Thousands of their comrades gave their lives for the great dream of a finer, better Canada in the future; other thousands will go through life maimed and carrying wounds, and all made sacrifices and suffered to a degree that no one except those who went through the awful inferno of the war can understand. These men are determined that their losses, sufferings and sacrifices shall not have been made in vain.

Canada's returned soldiers are the nation's greatest asset, and for many years to come their influence will be one of the determining factors in shaping national policy and establishing our national ideals. It is well that those ideals should be high and altogether worthy.

But what of those other thousands of Canadians who have not experienced the comradeship of the trenches, nor place their bodies in the path of a ruthless and arrogant foe? They, too, must be animated by the same grim determination to make Canada the land of their brightest, fondest dreams—a land of hope and glory, where all men are free and equal and where peace and prosperity reign.

How can Canada be elevated to such a proud and happy position? Only by the loyal service and patriotic self-sacrifice of the Canadian people. Nature has endowed our Dominion with riches almost beyond the dreams of avarice. Few countries in the world have been so richly blessed, and it only remains for the Canadian people to wisely administer and develop the wonderful resources nature has provided to make this Dominion a peer among the nations.

To make our dreams come true there must be, first of all, a greater unity in thought and purpose among the people of Canada than has heretofore existed. There must be less of race discord and religious bigotry. We must learn and appreciate the fact that all men are brothers, and that whatever may have been our antecedents, our mother tongue or faith, here in Canada we are Canadians, subjects of the world's greatest empire, joint heirs to one of nature's greatest storehouses of happiness and wealth.

There must be less of looking askance at fellow citizens because by the accident of birth they first saw the light in some far-off portion of the world, or because by that same accident they were brought up to worship God through different forms. There must be less of suspicion and more of sympathy; less of antagonism and more of co-operation.

In the second place, there must be determination and a united effort on the part of all to assure to the boys and girls of Canada—the hope of Canada—the best possible education regardless of their present condition and place in life. The governments of our three prairie provinces are all striving to raise the standard of education, and are making special efforts in behalf of the children of our non-English speaking settlers. But while governments can do much by law and administration, their efforts will be only partially successful unless there is hearty co-operation on the part of all the people.

Again, public spirited men and women everywhere throughout this broad land should lend their assistance and give every encouragement to all movements designed to develop the right kind of a community spirit, to remove causes of friction and estrangement, to make newcomers welcome—in a word, to make one and all feel that they are members of the great Canadian family, and that, while they have rights and privileges to enjoy and which will be respected, they also have duties to perform and responsibilities to discharge to their adopted country and fellow citizen.

Saturday, July 19, has been set apart by His Majesty the King as a day of general empire rejoicing for the victorious peace which under God has been vouchsafed to the empire and its allies in a community spirit. Every Canadian citizen should join heartily with the Great War Veterans on that day in their patriotic determination to make Canada the land of their dreams, and should consecrate these desires to the task unmindful of the sacrifices and the hard service which may be involved. Peace Day in Canada should be a day not alone of reconstruction, but of regeneration.

The War Idea

Farmer Smith was painting his barn bright red, and every so far he would mark off a faded window and smear black stripes down it. "Are you crazy, Jim?" asked a neighbor, "what you doing that for?" "Cannibals," was the prompt answer, "at a distance of fifty foot, tramps will think it's the county jail. Believe me, I'm farm something new from the war every day." — Hoard's Dairyman.

How You Can Tell Genuine Aspirin

Only Tablets Marked With "Bayer Cross" Are Aspirin

If You Don't See the "Bayer Cross" on the Tablets, Refuse Them—They Are Not Aspirin

There is only one Aspirin, that marked with the "Bayer Cross"—all other tablets are only acid imitations. Look for the "Bayer Cross"! Then it is real Aspirin, for which there is no substitute.

Aspirin is not German, but is made in Canada by Canadians, and is owned by a Canadian company. Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" have been proved safe by millions for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Colds, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets—also larger "Bayer" packages—can be had at any drug store.

Aspirin is the trade mark, registered in Canada, of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylic acid.

Bolshevism Has Failed

Russia May Yet Be Great and Prosperous

The scheme of Bolshevism does not work. The nationalization of all industries is a fiasco. The Communist ideal leads—as it led in the state factories of revolutionary France—to misery and ruin. At last even those who lead realize their country's urgent need. The led—the workers, on whom experiments have been tried have now for long been weary of it. All now the appeal goes out for capital to return to Russia and the foreigner to come in and save Russia. It may not be too late—so long as Bolshevism and the crazy creed are overturned in time. Russia may yet be great and prosperous. But the clock has been put back and blood has flowed like water in learning what saner people know well enough. — London Daily Express.

WEAK MOTHERS REGAIN HEALTH

Through the New Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make

No mother should allow nervous weakness to get the upper hand of her. If she does, worry will mar her work in the home and torment her in body and mind. Day after day spent in the same dreary surroundings, enough to cause fretfulness and depression. But there are other causes, as every mother knows, that tend to make her nervous run down. A change would benefit her jaded system, and rest might improve her blood so as to give the nerves a better tone. But rest and change are often impossible, and it is then that all worn-out women should take the short treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which make new blood, rich with the elements on which the nerves thrive. In this way these pills restore regular health, increased energy, new ambition and steady nerve. There is a lesson for other women in the case of Mrs. Harry P. Snider, Wilton, Ont., who says: "Five years ago my twin babies were born, and I was left very weak and very miserable, hardly fit to do anything. The doctor gave me medicine, but it did not help me. Then I tried another doctor, but with no better results. One day I went home to my mother, telling her how miserable I felt, and that the doctor's medicine had not done me any good. Mother asked me why I did not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as I was glad to try anything that might help me, I got three boxes when I went back home. By the time these were used there was no doubt they were helping me, and I got three more boxes. But I did not need them all, for by the time the fifth box was used, I was entirely cured, and never felt better in my life. Now when I hear people talk about feeling weak or miserable, I always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and tell what they did for me, and in similar cases I shall continue to recommend them. At the first sign that the blood is out of order, take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and you will see the speedy improvement they make in your appetite, health and spirits. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents per box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Buried Hatchet At English Camp

"Wedding" of the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack

Bellingham, Wash.—Wrapped in British and American colors, a hatchet was buried with ceremony by 400 Mexicans from Victoria, B.C., Foxxy Harbor, and Bellingham, at English Camp, San Juan Island, the scene of complications which threatened war between Great Britain and the United States in 1859. As the hatchet was placed in the ground a staff bearing on its apex a white dove, typifying peace, was raised over it. A feature of the program was the "wedding" of the Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack on the flagstaff of the old English blockhouse to the accompaniment of "America," "O Canada," the "Star Spangled Banner," and "The Maple Leaf Forever," by a band and the assemblage.

Hun Call Treaty

"Scrap Of Paper"

Extortionate Pressure Renders Signature Worthless, Says the Vorwaerts

Berlin.—The Berlin Vorwaerts, majority Socialist organ, described the peace treaty as "a scrap of paper." "Extortionate pressure renders signature of the peace treaty worthless," said the Vorwaerts. "We must never forget it is only a scrap of paper. Treaties based on violence can keep their validity only so long as force exists. Do not lose hope. The resurrection day comes."

The Prussian Kreuz Zeitung, in an editorial headed "Finis Germania," declared that "it is our duty not to permit the Prussian spirit to be crushed."

Irrigation In Alberta

Farmers Determined to Secure Surveys Without Delay

Macleod, Alberta.—A project to secure irrigation for the district lying between the Waterton and Belly rivers, with its southern extremity 12 miles due west of Cardston, is under consideration. The proposal is to take the water from Belly river to the southwest tip of the Blood Reserve, and by carrying it north parts of four townships can be watered, some 30,000 acres in all, it is thought. No surveys have yet been made. When farmers interested held a conference with Commissioner Peters of the Irrigation branch, they were told he had no appropriation for the work. They inquired as to the cost, and it is possible that if the government does not take up this work the farmers themselves will engage an engineer to make the necessary surveys. Not only are the farmers determined to secure surveys without delay, but they have signed the necessary petitions for the formation of the district into an irrigation district under the Alberta Irrigation District Act, and these petitions have been laid before the government. If the surveys are completed this year, the district may next spring be in a position to proceed with the awarding of the contracts for the ditches. Much of the land to be served by this new project is owned by the Mormon church.

Would Purchase British Dirigible

United States Seeks Model Airship for Practice and General Training

New York.—Purchase by the United States of the R-34, the big British trans-Atlantic dirigible, or its sister ship, the R-33 as a working model for dirigible building here was urged by Henry Woodhouse, chairman of the dirigible balloon committee of the Aero Club of America in a statement issued here. Mr. Woodhouse added the army and naval aeronautical experts favored the plan.

The R-34 and R-33, he said, could be used as a pattern in building larger airships in the United States, and as a practice ship for training of personnel for rigid airship service.

Gallipoli Farewell Song

Speaking at Newport, Isle of Wight, Brig.-Gen. H. S. Davey, who was the last ship to leave Gallipoli at the evacuation, said as soon as the order to be silent ceased the British troops sang, "Good-bye, Johnny, I must leave you, though it breaks my heart to go."

"This was supposed to have been a beaten army," he said. "You may kill the British soldier, but you can never beat him. He has a spirit which is indomitable."

Sulphur-Laden Rain in Yukon.—A sulphur-laden shower of rain, a rare phenomenon, fell over Dawson City, Yukon, and vicinity a few days ago. A thirty-minute downpour left pools and sidewalks streaked with a yellow substance, which chemists declare is sulphur, and which they think was carried in the upper atmosphere currents from some distant volcanic eruption. A similar precipitation has been reported at Eagle, a hundred miles north of Dawson, and also in northern British Columbia.

Heads Alberta Police Force

Calgary.—It was announced from Edmonton that Chief Alfred Cuddy, of the Calgary police, had been named as head of the reorganized provincial police of Alberta. The police force was formerly under a commission, but with Chief Cuddy at the head it will now be directly under the control of the attorney-general's department. Chief Cuddy has been here for eight years and his loss will be a serious one for the city.

Saving Wood With One Arm

For some months now no dispatch on the life of the former German emperor at Amerongen, Holland, has omitted to say something about his favorite exercise, which is said to be saving logs of wood. The faithful correspondent who sends out these stories, or the loyal secretary who gives them to him, evidently is not sufficiently familiar with manual labor to know that saving logs is an occupation which requires the use of two arms. The retired emperor, unfortunately, has but one. Is it more vanity which directs that the world be offered this characteristically German camouflage, or is there a more sinister political design back of it? — Buffalo Express.

"The German delegates are now digesting the peace treaty," says a dispatch. No wonder Von Brockdorff-Rantzau looks sort of green around the gills.—Washington Herald.

The Bottom Of The Sea

The bottom of the Pacific ocean—approximately six miles below the surface—is an exceedingly wet spot, but the "wettest place upon earth," in accordance with the usual meaning of the term, is Cherra Punji, in Assam, India. Here the rainfall averages 458 inches, a deluge of 300 inches falling during the summer months. This is a summer average of three inches a day, but more than 30 inches a day have been recorded on five successive days, approximately 150 inches falling in 120 hours.

At the little stream she paused. A single log was the only bridge, and although the water was not deep it ran swiftly, and still with the coldness of its glacier source. She ventured along the log, but near the centre she was seized with an acute sense of her temerity. Perhaps she had been foolish in attempting this passage without the aid of a stick. A stick, which could be shoved against the gravel below that blue water, would have been a very practical aid. Suddenly, the water under her feet was transmitted to the body. She felt an impetuous desire to fall upstream, which she resisted so successfully that she promptly fell down stream. The water was deeper than it looked, and colder than it looked, and when she scrambled up the farther bank she was a very wet young woman indeed. She was conscious of a deep annoyance toward young Elden. A fine bridge, that! She would tell him—but this thought died at its birth with the consciousness that Elden would be awfully over the incident, and would be at little pains to disguise his merriment. And then she laughed and ran along up the road.

The grips were duly found, and Irene congratulated herself that she and her father were in the habit of travelling with equipment for over night. She had even a spare skirt along, with which she was able to disguise her mishap at the stream, although she took the precaution not to make the change until she was safe back over the narrow bridge. And this time she used a stick. Arrived at the house, she deftly wrapped a bandage about her father's injury, and set to work at the preparation of supper—a task not strange to her, as her mother considered it correct that her daughter should have a working knowledge of kitchen affairs. Her equipment was meagre, and she spent more time scouring than cooking, but her heart beat high with the spirit of adventure. Once during the evening she took a glance into the other room. It was even less inviting than Dave's, with walls bare of any adornment save dirty garments that hung from nails driven in the logs. On the rude bed lay an old man; she could see only part of his face; a grey moustache drooping over an open mouth, and a florid cheek turned to the glow of the setting sun. On a chair beside the bed sat a bottle, and the room reeked with the smell of breath charged with alcohol. She gently closed the door, and busied herself through the long evening with reforms in the kitchen, and with little ministrations designed to relieve the sufferings of her father.

The sun sank behind the Rockies, and a darkness, soft and mystical and silent, stole up the valley, hushing even the noisiest day. Presently the glow of the rising moon burst in ruddy effulgence over the foothills to the east, first with the effect of fire upon their crests, and then as a great, slowly-whitening ball soaring high into the fathomless heaven. The girl stood framed in the open window, and the moonlight painted her face to the palest ivory, and toyed with the rich brown fastness of her hair, and gleamed from a single ornament at her throat. And she thought of the young horseman galloping to town; homeward journey, and the eerie depths of the valley communicated to her a fantastic admiration for his skill and bravery. She was under the spell. She was in a new world, where were manhood, and silence, and the realities of being; and moonlight, and great gulfs of shadow between the hills, and large, friendly stars, and soft breezes pushing this way and that without definite direction and strange, quiet noists from out of the depths, and the incense of the evergreens, and a young horseman galloping into the night. And conventions had been swept away, and it was correct to live, and to live!

CHAPTER II.

The first flush of dawn was mellowing the eastern sky when the girl was awakened from uneasy sleep by sounds in the yard in front of the ranch. She had been asleep since the night by her father's side, and although he had at last prevailed upon her to seek some rest for herself, she had done so under protest and without undressing. Now, after the first dazed moment of returning consciousness, she was on her feet and through the door.

The stars were still shining brightly through the cold air. In the faint light she could distinguish a team and wagon, and men unlighting. She approached, and, in a voice that sounded strangely distant in the vastness of the calm night, called, "Is that you, Dave?"

And in a moment she wondered how she had dared call him Dave. But she soon had other cause for wonder, for the boy replied from near beside her, in that tone of friendly confidence which springs so spontaneously in the darkness, "Yes, Reenie, and the doctor, too. We'll have Mr. Hardy fixed up in no time. How did he stand the night?"

How dared he call her Reenie? A flush of resentment rose in her breast only to be submerged in the sudden remembrance that she had first called him Dave. That surely gave him the right to address her as he had done. But with this thought came recollection of the obvious fact that Dave had not presumed upon her frankness; that it was not by her word that he would attempt to justify his. Indeed, she was so convinced that he would have called her Reenie anyway—just as he had called him Dave, without premeditation or intention. Then she remembered she was in the ranch country, in the foothills, where the conventions—the conventions she hated—had not yet become rooted, and where the souls of men and women stood bare in the clear light of acceptance of the fact. It would be idle—dangerous—to trifle with this boy by any attempt at concealment or deception. And what were conventions but a recognized formula of concealment and deception?

She could see his form now, as he led the horses toward the corral. How straight he was, and how bravely his footsteps fell on the hard earth! The poetry of his motion reached her through the darkness. She heard the harness jingle as the horses rubbed between the posts of the corral gate. "He's a wonderful boy," said the doctor, of whose presence she had been unconscious. "Cat's eyes. Full gallop through the dark; side hills, mountain streams, up and down; Break-neck. Well, here we are." The doctor breathed deeply, as though this last fact were one to occasion some wonderment. "Your brother tells me you have an injured man here; accident, stranger, I believe? Well, shall we go in?"

Brother! Why should she explain? Dave hadn't bothered. Why hadn't he? He had told about the stranger; why had he not told about both strangers? Why had he ignored her altogether? This time came another flush, born of that keen womanly intuition which understands. With a commonplace she led the doctor into the house and to the bedside of her father. She was struck by the change in attitude of the visiting physician when he learned that his patient was of his own profession. It was like the meeting of brothers in a secret code. There was an exchange of technical terms that might have served as password or sign into some fine fraternity, and the setting of the limb was accompanied by a running fire of professional comment as effective upon the nerves of the sufferer as an opiate.

When the operation was completed the girl turned her attention to the kitchen, where she found Dave, sweating in vicarious suffering. He had helped to draw the limb into place, and it had been his first close contact with human pain. It was different from branding calves, and he had slipped out of the room as soon as possible. The morning sun was now

Heart Palpitated Could Count Every Beat

When the heart begins to palpitate it will beat fast for several seconds, then slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of utter depression will come over the whole system, accompanied by weak, fainting and dizzy spells. When the heart gets into this condition, you become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social, business or household duties.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief to all sufferers from any heart weakness or nerve derangements. Mrs. Walter Greives, Aspley, Ont., writes: "I had been run down, and doctors told me I was anemic, but did not help me with their medicines. I could not sleep nights, my heart palpitated, and I could count every beat."

I used to have such dizzy spells I had to go to bed. I was not able to do any work for eight months. A cousin of mine had taken Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and told me they had done for her. I took eight boxes of them, and now I am able to help every day with the work. I am so thankful to tell others that they have done for me, so that they may try this great and wonderful remedy. I hope this may prove good to someone who is suffering the way I did."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

pouring through the window, and the distraught look on the boy's face touched her even more than the frankness of the words spoken in the darkness. She suddenly remembered that he had been up all night—for her. She would not deceive herself with the thought that it was for her father's sake Dave had galloped to town, found a doctor, secured a fresh team and driven back along the little-used foothill trails. She recalled the doctor's terse description of that journey. No doubt Dave would have done it all for her father had her father been there alone, but as things were she had a deep conviction that he had done it for her. And it was with a greater effort than seemed reasonable that she laid her fingers on his arm and said, "Thank you, Dave."

"What for?" he asked, and she could not doubt the genuineness of his question. "Why, for bringing the doctor, and all that. Diving all night on those roads. We fell off them in daylight. I am sure I can't father won't be able to—"

"Oh, shucks," he interrupted, with a manner which, on the previous afternoon, she would have called rudeness. "That's nothing. But say, I brought home some grub. The chuck here was pretty tame. Guess you found that out last night." He looked about the room, and she knew that he was taking note of her house-cleaning, but he made no remark on the subject.

"Well, let's get breakfast," she said, after a moment's pause, and for lack of other conversation. "You must be hungry."

Dave's purchases had been liberal. They included fresh meat and vegetables, canned goods, coffee, rice and raisins. He laid the last three items on the table with a great dissembling of indifference, for he was immensely proud of them. They were unwanted items on the Elden bill of fare; he had bought them especially for her. From somewhere the knowledge had been borne in upon him that city people frequently drink coffee for breakfast, and the rice and raisins were an inspiration quite his own. He would see what she could do with them. But she busied herself at the breakfast without a thought of the epoch-making nature of these purchases.

"Do you milk?" she asked, presently. "Milk what?" he demanded, pausing with stove-lid and litter raised in his hand, in the half-completed act of putting wood on the fire.

Hurrah! How's This

Cincinnati authority says corns
dry up and lift out with fingers.

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poisoning, which is needless to say. Cincinnati authority who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You simply apply a few drops of freezone on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain. This drug is sticky, but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue, or skin.

If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

"Dave!" she cried. "Put that lid down. Look at the smoke." A blue cloud was curling under the rafters. "Yes," he said, with great composure. "It always does in this country." She shot a quick glance at him. Was he making fun of her? No, plainly not; he was just making fun with her; he had a vein of humor. And a little before she had found his face drawn in sympathy for her father. Perhaps for her. . . . He was not all on the surface.

He completed his operation at the stove and returned the lid to its place with no lack of deliberation. He was evidently waiting for her to speak again, but she worked on in silence. (To Be Continued.)

Over Sea And Back In A Day

Speedy Air Voyages Forecasted By Lieut.-Commander Read

New York.—That within three years, with the interest and co-operation in aviation which prevailed during the war, it will have become the custom to travel to Europe by airship and not at all uncommon to go over in the morning and return in the afternoon, was forecasted by Lieut.-Commander Albert C. Read, of the NC-4, at a dinner given in honor of him, Commander John T. Towers of the NC-3, Lieutenant-Commander N. L. Bellinger of the NC-1, and their crews, at the American Flying Club at the Hotel Commodore.

Commander Read told of the enthusiasm for flying which he found in England and France, and expressed his astonishment to find such a lack of general feeling toward aviation on his return to the United States.

Krupps Appeal To Workers

By Strikes Important Orders Have Been Lost

Essen, Germany.—Krupp's works have drawn a statement to the fact that by their strikes and the consequent unrest in Germany important orders have been lost. A case has been cited of a contract with a great Dutch concern, which was lost and went to England, despite the much lower price quoted by Germany, because the Dutch mistrusted the ability of Krupp's to carry out the contract. Similarly, steel deliveries for the Norwegian navy were given to an American firm, this also at a far higher price.

Drastic Decree In Sonora

Persons In Any Way Dealing In Liquor Shall Be Executed

Washington, District of Columbia.—Gov. Plutarco Elias Calles, of Sonora, Mexico, who has just been appointed Minister of Industry, Commerce and Labor in the Carranza Cabinet, has solved the difficulties of enforcing prohibition laws. Governor Calles recently returned to Sonora to turn over the government of the state to Adolfo De La Huerta, his successor. Mr. Calles had previously decreed prohibition for Sonora, but on his return found that moonshiners and smugglers were evading the law. So, following Carranza's system of legislating by decree, which was first used in Mexico in the preconstitutional days and has been continued by Carranza since that time, Calles issued another decree, addressed to the political heads of the various city and town officials, which reads:

"The executive has seen fit to decree, so that you may bring it to the notice of your municipality, in order that there may be no excuse of ignorance of the law, that hereafter all those persons in any way dealing in liquor shall be executed."

American Officers Decorated

London, England.—Sir Douglas Haig decorated 16 American officers on the Horse Guards Parade, before Major-General Biddle and the British and American staffs, surrounded by thousands of spectators. Sir Douglas said he hoped they would regard the decorations not only as a recognition from Great Britain of great services rendered, but as a reminder of the feeling of close comradeship existing between the armies in the field, as well as the admiration, esteem and real affection with which the British forces everywhere regarded their comrades in the American army.

Saskatchewan contributed $21,336, or a little more than one-half of the whole amount subscribed in Canada, on account of the agricultural relief of the allies fund, according to figures received from the deputy minister of agriculture at Ottawa.

Believe Ex-Kaiser Will Kill Himself

U-Boat Commanders "Wanted" By Entente Said to Be in "Pact of Death"

Coblenz.—Up and down the Rhine-land goes the word that William Hohenzollern, former emperor of Germany, never will be brought to trial as provided in the terms of the peace treaty which the conquered nation, through its Weimar assembly, has now voted to sign.

Friends of the former kaiser are not saying that he will commit suicide rather than face the judgment, but one reads in their declarations, pompous and verbose, that their ideas of the maintenance of William's honor or hinges on that eventuality. Whether or not the man whose honor was such that he ran away rather than face his nation's crisis is such as to give him the nerve to solve the nasty problem by removing himself does not appear to enter into their speculations. They are simply sure the former kaiser will never come to trial.

In connection with the Rhine-land expectation that the kaiser will rather commit suicide than face trial, there is another interesting story going the rounds of the Rhine-land beer gardens, where chagrined Germans are rejoicing over the burning of the French flags in Berlin, and planning again for "Der Tag," when they will clean up France. This story is to the effect that those submarine commanders, on England's blacklist for crimes-against humanity committed in the von Tirpitz "spurious versect" sea warfare, and whom the allies pursue to try, have formed a suicide club. It is said that the club has held several meetings. The main idea is that its members will defeat justice by killing themselves, if justice gets too close on their trail.

Five Hundred Years Ago

New Europe Strangely Like a Very Old Europe

What is happening now with regard to the parceling out of the countries in Europe into new racial divisions is very much like what it was 500 years ago. According to Sir Sidney Low, new Europe was strangely like a very old Europe. Five centuries ago there was then a united and independent Poland, including West Prussia and reaching as far as the Baltic. There was a kingdom of Bohemia embracing the Czech-Slovak countries, a kingdom of Hungary, a Rumania, or Rumanian, divided off from Muscovite Russia, a separate Courland and Esthonia, a greater Serbia or Jugoslavia, a Greek kingdom occupying the rest of the Balkan lands, except the Dalmatian coasts and islands, which were under an Italian republic. Then time worked its slow but drastic changes. Most of these minor states were swallowed up in the four great imperial aggregates, Austria, Russia, Turkey and Prussian Germany. The war leaves the empires broken so that the map of the 20th century will show the medieval kingdoms and republics revived, and will strikingly resemble one which might have been drawn in the fifteenth.

Awkward For Hubby

Mme. Melba Tells an Amusing Story
Concerning a Young Married Couple

Mme. Melba, who sang at the gala performance at Covent Garden during May, told an amusing story at a Red Cross entertainment recently. It concerned a young married couple and a rich aunt from whom they had expectations, and who incidentally was fond of music.

Aunt came on a visit to the newly-wedded couple (said Mme. Melba) and wife told her that hubby had just recently made a record of her favorite violin solo on their gramophone.

The old lady was quite pleased, and naturally wanted to hear it. "Well," said the young wife, "as a matter of fact, we haven't tried it ourselves yet, but I'll put it on." She accordingly did so, and the record proved a great success, but unfortunately just after the solo was finished, with fatal clearness for the instrument came the following: "Phew! If that isn't good for an extra few hundreds in the old girl's will, I'm a Dutchman!"

Big Increase in Fish Catch

Ottawa.—An increase of over $800, 00 in the total value of sea fish taken during the month of May this year, as compared with the same month a year ago, is shown by the monthly statement on sea fishing recently issued from the Naval Department. The total value of sea fish at the point of landing on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts during May this year was $3,085,050, while in May, 1918, it was $2,229,877.

Huge Vote For Building Ships

Thousands of Dollars Voted for Public Works All Over the Dominion

Ottawa.—In the House of Commons, the Minister of Finance, Sir Thomas White, tabling supplementary estimates totalling $367,720, which will be voted by Parliament before prorogation. The chief item is one of $100,000 for the construction of vessels in accordance with the government's shipping program. Many thousands of dollars are voted for public works all over the Dominion, and also for harbor and river improvements, including $500,000 for a new dry dock at Esquimaut, British Columbia, and harbor improvements at Port Arthur and Fort William, Ontario, as well as at Toronto, Quebec, and St. John, New Brunswick. Of the amount to be voted $23,494,256 is chargeable to current revenues, and the remainder to capital account.

Back to the Land in Belgium

The armistice had hardly been signed before a Belgian farmer had returned to his former farm on the battlefield near Poperinghe, within a few miles of Ypres. He has already cleared, levelled, dug and planted with several acres of his holding. A German "pill-box" of thick concrete forms a home for his family. It is this class of farmer that the Agricultural Relief of Allies Committee is helping to get back to the land by gifts of suitable English livestock. Many hundred head of cattle, pigs and poultry have already been distributed among the small holders in Belgium.

Back Up The Farmers.

The Canadian Council of Agriculture calls upon the government to undertake the marketing of the wheat crop, as a means of stabilizing prices and protecting the farmer from speculative depression.

The shipping of wheat to Europe is under government control. As the government of the United States has both a dominant voice in that control and an enormous crop of wheat to sell, the prospect of the Canadian farmer getting a price fixed by the European demand is not good unless our government takes matters in hand and secures a market there for our surplus. The government has not yet done so, and seemingly is not much inclined to do so.

The business interests of the country should back up the farmers in urging early action upon the ministers. A collapse of the wheat market this fall would entail a collapse of business generally. And the earlier an occurrence of that kind is guarded against the better for every interest concerned, except those which would profit through the manipulation of prices.—Edmonton Bulletin.

Who is Blind?

Will every person who reads this notice, and knows a blind man or woman anywhere in Canada, kindly send the name and address of that blind one to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, 36 King St. East, Toronto.

The Institute is conducting work for the blind along the most modern scientific lines and desires that each blind resident of Canada should have the opportunity of availing himself or herself of the benefits represented by this work.

The immense task of registering every case of blindness can only be accomplished successfully by the earnest co-operation of the public generally. That is why we ask you to send the names and addresses of blind people you may know.

The following department of work are being actively prosecuted by the Institute:

Allowances Act For Mothers Will Be Public Soon

The mother's allowances act will be in operation throughout Alberta in the course of the next week or two it is announced by the attorney general's department. The act is now in the printers' hands, the intention of the government being to distribute it in pamphlet form for the use of all the municipalities. Application forms are also being prepared for distribution.

The administration of the act will be under the direction of A. M. McDonald, superintendent of the department of the neglected and delinquent children. A branch office of that department is being opened in Calgary to take care of the new work in the southern part of the province as well as the other work of the department of reparation. Even just bitterness should not be perpetuated as a feature of League organization.

Geneva is almost as proud of Jean Jacques Rousseau as of John Calvin. She is more and more a liberal and cosmopolitan city. Her first historian was Bonivard, whom the Duke of Savoy long kept in prison in the Chillon dungeon in the canton of Vaud, though not so long as Lord Byron's theory. But the modern Geneva can be classed as either Protestant or Catholic, since the canton has a majority of Catholics and the majority of Protestants. More than three-quarters of the people speak French.

Brussels, on the other hand, is Roman Catholic city in so far as organized religion goes. It was in a sense the refuge city of the Society of Jesus in 1914, when the war broke out. But it is also alive with socialistic sentiment unfriendly to all religion, and that would have been a disadvantage from the League's point of view. We cannot help thinking that Geneva was wisely chosen. It is something to be a part of one of the oldest of republics. It is something to be in a country of which the neutrality has long been guaranteed. And it is something to stand for the spirit of the mountain heights from which Freedom unfurled her standard to the air. If the Swiss are good hotelkeepers, so much the better for them, and so much the better for the delegates who will be able, we are sure, to pay whatever prices may be charged for accommodations.

Pasture For Hogs Reduces Cost of Pork

High prices for farm products do not always mean large profits. Cost of production plays a very important part in determining the net profit a farmer makes on what he has to sell. This is a matter that should receive more attention than is being given to it. Manufacturers of articles that the farmer has to buy study the question of cost production very carefully. The farmer is a manufacturer of the things the other fellow has to buy, and while he does little in the way of setting the prices for his products, he should and should more towards lessening production cost.

Take, as an example, the production of pork. Economical production of pork depends largely upon the consumption of cheaply grown feed. In the summer time the hogs should be put on pasture. The pasture should be so managed that the forage produced will be clean, tender, and palatable. The idea that anything, no matter how dirty, is good enough for hog feed is erroneous. While the hog will eat some dirty food, he will eat more and thrive better if he is given clean food and clean water. Such crops as alfalfa, clover, rape or peas and oats make good hog pasture. The pasture should not be overgrazed. It is best to divide the pasture into two or three equal areas and allow the hogs to remain in each a week or ten days. This will allow the first pastured areas to recuperate before the hogs are turned into it again.

Some grain also should be fed when hogs are on pasture. Opinions differ regarding the quantity that should be fed. A medium ration would be from two per cent of the live weight of the hog. No fixed rule can be held regarding this. The pasture should be tender and clean, and enough grain should be fed to keep the hogs shapely and in thrifty, growing condition at all times.

LOCAL NEWS

S. Capell was a visitor at the Edmonton Fair last week.

H. Hunter won't to Wainwright this week on business.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Tate, a daughter, on Wednesday July 16.

Dr. Haynes, dentist, will be in town Monday and Tuesday, July 22-23.

The stores, business places and bank will be closed next Saturday, Irma Welcome Home Picnic and Peace Celebration.

*C. J. Knutson motored to Edmonton last week but on account of the wet weather Saturday night he came home on the train Sunday.

A basket picnic will be held at the Plaxton school house on Wednesday, July 23rd. All the residents in the district are invited.

Sunday rain was a great relief to the settlers in the district south and east of Irma. This is the best rain we have had in the district this year and will be a great help in bringing the oats and feed along.

Mrs. W. H. King left Sunday night for a trip to Hazelton and Vancouver where she will visit her brother and sister who have been living in B.C. for some time.

Girls and boys who have not received pamphlets concerning the Canadian Bankers Competition can get same at the Bank, Edmonton City Dairy, or Swifts Cream station. The application forms must be properly filled out with the manager of the local branch bank at least three weeks before date of fair.

A prairie fire started about two miles west of town last Tuesday afternoon but owing to the quick response of the townspeople was soon under control. Settlers cannot be too careful with fire especially when the grass and soil are so dry. This fire apparently started from the remains of a fire started last week when men working on the road were burning brush.

KINSELLA

Miss Luella Brink, of Edmonton, is visiting her sister at the home of Mrs. Froment.

The addition that is being put on to the Kinsella hotel is nearing completion, and when finished will certainly look splendid. Miss Smith is going to a big expense, but it will surely be appreciated by its many customers.

J. Murray, who purchased C. Heights and D. Green's quarters for five thousand dollars, sold them recently for twelve thousand dollars.

At a municipal meeting a resolution was passed stating their willingness to enter into agreement with the neighboring townships to borrow sixty thousand dollars for local improvement, this amount to be spread over a period of twenty years at five and one-half per cent interest. Louie Anderson, who has been serving with the C.E.F. for the past three years, returned some time ago to his father's place south of town.

D. Homer has arrived from Ontario to look after his farming interests here.

A very intelligent scheme has been worked out to induce the boys of sixteen years of age and under, to take an interest in live stock raising. The bank is loaning money to them to buy one head of stock or more, also money to buy feed. They are to be exhibited at the fall fair and suitable prizes will be awarded.

Edwin Elliott, who has been serving with the 51st battalion, has returned home.

The Kinsella garage is nearing completion. It has about eight thousand square feet of floor space and will be a credit to the town.

Ole Christenson has sold his farm south of the lake, and has purchased the livery barn at Kinsella from Mr. Kneebone, who a short time ago purchased the barn from Sam Bashaw.

VIKING

A baseball team from Killam came over last Thursday evening and went home with a 12 to 7 score against them. The game furnished considerable sport for the crowd that gathered.

Winnipeg has been made the dispersal area for all western soldiers. From there all troops for the west will be sent home on the regular passenger trains.

The first conviction under the by-law prohibiting animals running at large was made in the local justice court this week. It looks as if the council mean to enforce the by-law to the letter.

The six mile stretch of road just west of town leading to Bruce is receiving the same careful attention from Geo. Loades as last year. A ride over the road will convince anyone of the use of the road drag, especially after showers.

The crossing put over the ditch just west of town is only sixteen feet wide and set at an angle to the road. It looks like accidents can very easily take place there. If it is a permanent crossing, supports should at least be put up on the sides or somebody is likely to miss it and fall in the ditch.

In justice court Monday the assault case brought against Mr. Poxon by Mr. Read was dismissed, and M. Leary paid a fine of $1.00 because his chickens were too industrious away from home.

The Mance Farming Co. had the same success at the Edmonton fair as they had at the Calgary exhibition with their prize winning horses. This speaks well for this district as well as for Mr. Lambert, the manager of the farm.

A would be circus advertised as Col. Geo. W. Hall's great shows gave a performance here Tuesday afternoon, July 18th, to a crowd that filled the tent. They didn't have much to offer in the way of a circus for the high prices they charged.

Among the fair visitors last week were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Loades and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Tynich and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. Hilliker, Ed Reishus, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Poole, Miss Emma Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Loughlin, H. Cartwright, Sven Hagen and a host of others whose names we have not been able to secure. It was a good fair everybody said.

Rev. J. K. Smith of Edmonton, will occupy the pulpit at the Community church next Sunday evening. Services commence at 7.30 and a hearty welcome is accorded to all. Rev. Smith is making a survey in the province of all foreigners and we were fortunate in obtaining his services while in the district some distance southwest of here.

W. J. McLeod, principal of schools here the past year, left Monday for Regina where he will spend the school vacation. He intends entering a school in Washington, D.C., U. S. A., to study for the priesthood this fall.

Capt. K. C. McLeod, of Edmonton, formerly chaplain of the 202 battalion, filled the pulpit in the local Community church last Sunday evening. His sermon was an inspiration to all who heard it.

Manager Slavik has had the baseball diamond scraped and leveled which will be in good shape for the tournament July 24th.

Discuss Formation Of Farmers' Party

Winnipeg.—Future political action was discussed at a session of the Canadian Council of Agriculture. It was ultimately decided that the question of making the political action that has been taken already in the various constituencies in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Ontario federal in scope be left to the provinces to decide when farmers' political conventions are held. Hitherto only district conventions have been held in the various constituencies. The United Farmers of Alberta have selected July 26 as the date for their provincial convention.

Co-operative action by the Dominion and provincial governments to meet the feed shortage in Alberta was suggested. In a message sent to Ottawa the council strongly urged the Dominion government to investigate the matter and take immediate action. Reports from the different provinces with regard to political action were received, and considerable time was devoted to discussion arising from them. No definite steps on the question of political action was taken at this session, however.

In his report J. B. Musselman, secretary of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' association, suggested that the time was opportune for calling a convention in which the different provinces which have taken independent political action would be represented. He said that steps should be taken toward consolidating the movement, which heretofore has been confined to the provinces, into a federal one.

An invitation to attend the Liberal convention at Ottawa in August was given reached by the council and was given consideration. No decision was given as to whether or not the invitation would be accepted.

Labor Unrest In Italy

Repression of Disorders By Military Methods Resented By Labor Leaders

Rome.—The chamber of labor has proclaimed a general strike as a sign of protest against the police and military measures adopted by the government to prevent further disorders. The chamber of labor maintains that these measures were adopted to prevent the lowering of the price of necessities, as demanded by the people.

The strike was not quite general, because only the Popolo Romano published the decision of the chamber of labor to call a strike.

The food shops were crammed with people buying provisions in fear of being caught with scanty supplies.

Minimum Wage for Office Help

Winnipeg.—The work of the Manitoba minimum wage board is being brought to a close so far as the fixing of minimum wages is concerned, with the announcement of a proposed minimum wage of $12.50 per week to women in offices, and $12 to female help in theatres.

It has covered approximately 6,000 women in industry in Winnipeg, and has affected about forty industries. Dr. W. J. McMillan, chairman, sent in his resignation to the government, and it has been accepted.

Germans Ratify Treaty With Very Bad Grace

Weimar.—In the debate which preceded the vote of the national assembly ratifying the peace treaty, some strong sentiments against the terms were expressed, and 99 deputies abstained from voting on the resolution to ratify the treaty. Most of the ministers were present at the meeting of the assembly, and there was a full attendance of deputies. Dr. Hermann Mueller, the foreign minister in introducing the government bills, explained that hastening of the ratification order would bring about the lifting of the blockade.

"We are about to enter upon a 40 years' march through dirt," he said. "I can find no other term for the path of suffering fulfillment of the treaty prescribed for us."

Dr. Peter Spahn, leader of the Catholic centre party, said:

"We agree to the treaty under hard compulsion, to save ourselves from anarchy and to preserve the fatherland from internal ruin."

Herr Kruezing, Socialist; Professor Schuecking, Democrat; Dr. Traub, national party, and Herr Kahl, people's party, all spoke violently pro-

To Limit Troop Trains

Winnipeg.—Winnipeg is to be made the military dispersal area for the entire West, and no more troop trains will run further than this city after those carrying soldiers from the Olympic games westward on Saturday, it is semi-officially announced. The reason given is the comparatively small number of troops that will have to be handled from now on. This will be so small that it is considered the dispersal work could quite well be done here and that there is no longer any necessity for keeping open the dispersal offices that have been established west of here. Among the dispersal area headquarters that will be closed under the new regime will be those of Saskatoon, Regina, Calgary, Medicine Hat, Edmonton, Regester, Victoria and Vancouver. The Brandon, Man., office also will be closed up.

When troops have been discharged at Winnipeg they will travel to their destinations on ordinary passenger trains.

Many Labor Candidates

Labor Party In Winnipeg Will Try for Victory at the Polls

Winnipeg.—At a largely attended meeting of the Labor party, over which S. J. Farmer presided, it was decided to nominate candidates for every seat in Winnipeg and the territory immediately surrounding the city for the Dominion parliament and the provincial legislature, also to nominate candidates for the mayoralty and every seat on the city council and on the public school board.

A convention is being arranged for August.

Vaudeville, the Ever Popular

That visitors to the Saskatoon and Regina fairs will have an opportunity to witness a performance of the Pantages unqualified vaudeville will be welcome news to many fair-goers. Pantages will offer in the above cities precisely the same program that plays Minneapolis, Winnipeg, Seattle, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles and the largest American cities. It can be said that the vaudeville troupe to the already strong attractions offered.

Some Sidelights on Bolshevism

New York.—The arrest of President Wilson and J. D. Rockefeller, the opening of all jails and the formation of secret organizations throughout the country to take over the government were advocated in the anarchistic bulletin, according to Archibald Stevenson, who produced a copy of the bulletin at the hearing of the Lusk investigating commission.

Urges Peace Quickly

Rome.—Premier Nitti, in a speech before parliament, urged that the peace negotiations be concluded, and that friendly relations with the allies, especially France, be maintained.

Hidden Bravery To Be Rewarded

Recommendations for Awards Must Be Sent to Ottawa By End of August

Ottawa.—Officers and soldiers of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who displayed gallantry while escaping or attempting to escape from the enemy, or who rendered exceptional services whilst prisoners of war or interned, are eligible for a reward.

An order of the Militia Department just issued states that recommendations for such reward may now be submitted. The facts supporting each recommendation must be substantiated by statements of evidence from at least two witnesses who have first-hand knowledge of the case, and should reach militia headquarters before August 31. Officers and soldiers who are still serving should submit their claims through the usual official channels. The claims of those who have been demobilized should be presented through the officer commanding the military district in which they live.

Fall Harvesting Starts In Ontario

Crops on the Whole Are Very Poor This Year

Toronto.—Fall wheat harvesting has already commenced in a few counties, according to the Ontario crop report, issued by the department of agriculture.

Owing to the length of straw, some of the grain has been knocked down. In some sections, fears were that grain was ripening too fast, but the yield will be higher.

Winter rye is ready for the binder. Crops on the whole are very poor. Some sections report practically a failure. The fields are uneven, and on account of the dry weather, grain is heading out at a foot and less in height.

Failed To Get Knighthood

Charles Hannan Asserts He Got No Reward for Devising the Smoke Box Screen Defence

London.—Charles Hannan, the author, has issued the text of a curious correspondence between himself and the government regarding his claim to be an inventor of smoke boxes against submarine attack.

Mr. Hannan claims his invention was adopted, but his stipulation that the reward should be a "good old-fashioned knighthood and pension equivalent," was ignored.

In February he was informed "that the most favorable consideration your name in the present honors list, but when the next one is prepared, you shall again receive consideration."

However, no knighthood was forthcoming, and Mr. Hannan now presents the correspondence to the public.

Many Jews Killed

Ukrainian Anti-Bolshevist Commander Shows Cruelty

London.—Many Jews have lost their lives in the course of the operations between the Russian soviet forces and those of General Grecoff, commander of the Ukrainian anti-Bolshevist army, which has been fighting its way northward from the Black Sea. Cecil Harmsworth, under-secretary for foreign affairs, said in the house of commons in replying to a question. General Grecoff, the under-secretary said, was stated to be strongly anti-Jewish in his sympathies.

$35,000,000 for Six Airships

London.—Six rigid airships of an improved type, representing successive stages of development, are under construction for the British navy, it was disclosed in the House of Commons by Walter Hume Long, First Lord of the Admiralty. These airships, he stated, would cost £7,000,000.

Hun Mob Releases Prisoners

Berlin.—A mob attacked the castle and the detention prison at Hanover and released all the prisoners in the buildings. The guards, it is said, surrendered their arms without resistance. Some fighting occurred between the crowds and government soldiers.

Troops Overseas Now Total 32,000

London.—With the sailing of the Carmania July 5, with 2,954 troops, and the sailing of the Tunisian on the same day with 268 troops, 255,413 Canadians have been repatriated since the date of the armistice.

The number of Canadians overseas, both in the British Isles and France, is now approximately 32,000. This, of course, includes hospital staffs.

Britain Has Rivals Amongst Colonies

Preference Within the Empire Only Against Foreigners

London.—In the house of commons R. P. Houston, member for the West Toxeth division of Liverpool, asked why the South African government had recently placed in the United States orders for 44,000 tons of rails, 1,000 cars and 250 trucks, and in the U.S. and Canada orders for 70 large locomotives instead of in Great Britain, in view of the necessity of employment of the people here and of maintaining Britain's export trade.

Mr. Houston continued that in view of Mr. Houston's question, which seemed doubtless to unintentionally imply that it was undesirable that the South African government should purchase material from Canada rather than Great Britain, he recalled that a policy on which the government of the empire were agreed was that of preference in contracts for produce and manufactures of the empire, and not merely of the United Kingdom.

Great Britain could not expect preference from other empire governments, except as against foreign countries. Mr. Amery said he understood the South African government actually had done its very best to place orders in Great Britain and had negotiated at length with manufacturers.

Reds Prepare To Evacuate Petrograd

Allied Powers Will See Kolchak Movement Carried Through

Washington.—Definite information that the Bolshevik authorities are planning to evacuate Petrograd has been received in official circles here. Decision to quit the capital was said to have been violently opposed by some elements of the government.

Paris.—Approval of a plan for a concerted attack upon Petrograd by Finnish forces and the troops of the Kolchak government at Ousk, was given by the council of five.

A joint note has been sent the military attaches of Great Britain, France, United States and Italy at Helsinki, Finland, instructing them to support the Finnish government, if it decided to accede to the request of Admiral Kolchak to assist him in the campaign.

There is no indication that the allied and associated powers propose to go further in the time in helping Kolchak's plan, but their action in supporting the Finns is regarded as equivalent to assurances that they will see the Kolchak movement carried through.

Helsinki.—It is reported that all foreign embassies, legations and consulates in Petrograd have been occupied by Bolshevik forces. The archives have been seized, it is said, and those in charge have been arrested and handed over to an extraordinary committee dealing with charges of espionage against the soviet government.

British Army Won The War

Emphatic Statement By Sir Douglas Haig on British Army Achievements

London.—Field Marshal Haig, receiving the freedom of Newcastle, deprecated the tendency to minimize the British army's achievements in the war.

"It is right to speak of our allies," he declared, "but it was the British army that won the war; it was Britain that bore the brunt of the fighting in the last two years. I hope everyone will realize the fact and stick by the fellows who fought and suffered and their dependents."

Has No Plans for His Future

Toronto.—Sir Thomas White, who is at his home in Toronto for a few days, stated that reports which have appeared and are appearing in the press, to the effect that he had been offered and accepted an executive position with some railway corporation or bank or life insurance company, were entirely without foundation and were purely malicious. He was occupying positions which have been means of financial plans which he had made no financial plans whatsoever for the future.

Wilson Addresses The U. S. Senate

Dutch Resent Note

Paris.—The council of five received a reply from Holland in answer to the council's note regarding the reported escape from the Island of Weirgen of the former German crown prince. The Dutch note, in what were said to be rather curt terms, pointed out that the rumor of the escape was unfounded and expressed surprise at the warning given by the council.

The Dutch government, the reply added, is conscious of its international obligations and must be left to exercise its sovereignty as it sees fit.

Grampian Strikes Iceberg

Two of Crew Were Killed and Two Injured

St. John's, Nfld.—Two men were killed and two injured when the Allan liner Grampian, Montreal for Liverpool, collided with an iceberg off Cape Race Thursday night.

The Grampian, with 750 passengers and a crew of 350, arrived here for repairs. The killed and injured were members of the crew, who were asleep in the bow of the steamer when she struck. Virtually all the passengers were awake; but although there were more than 500 women and children aboard, there was little excitement and no panic.

That the Grampian did not suffer the fate of the Titanic, with considerable loss of life, is believed to have been due to the decision of the captain to strike the iceberg bow on instead of taking a glancing blow on the side. The berg, which was very large, was encountered 45 miles off Cape Race on the early evening.

When it was sighted through the fog it was too late to clear it, although the ship was proceeding slowly. The captain said he realized that a glancing blow, which would tear through the ship's side, would sink the Grampian. The course was changed and the Grampian struck the berg squarely head on. The entire fore part of the ship was smashed in above the water line, the stem being driven back nearly 40 feet. The vessel was undamaged below the water line, however, as the portion of the berg which she struck proved to be an overhanging shelf.

It was found that the liner was taking no water and she was headed here, steaming through the night against a heavy gale, which caused anxiety among those aboard. When the Grampian arrived, mariners said she was the most "berg beaten" that had ever come to this port. Repairs will take several weeks, and it is expected that the passengers will be transhipped to another ship.

Raising the Giant Flagstaff

A Douglas fir furnished a giant flagstaff 215 feet high, weighing 18 tons, which was presented four years ago by the British Columbian government to King Gardens, near London. The mighty flagstaff is at last to be erected, by Canadian hands.

Washington.—The peace treaty with its League of Nations covenant, was laid before the senate by President Wilson in an address accounting to the country for his part in the negotiations at Versailles.

The league, declared the president, was born of the conviction of practical statesmen that an international concern had become a world necessity to end the old order and guarantee civilization. He asserted that in such a concern the world looked confidently to the United States for leadership, and added that while the treaty might not be exactly as the United States delegation would have written it, no ideal principle had been sacrificed by the necessary compromises. The senate, already divided in a bitter fight over this league proposal, received the President with cheers and listened to his words in grave silence. When he had concluded there was another burst of cheering until he had passed out of the chamber and had gone to his capital office, where he talked for an hour with senators who wished to ask about specific features of the treaty or of the negotiations.

In these conferences the President discussed freely such subjects as the disposition of Shantung, the German indemnities and Irish freedom. In his address, however, there was no direct reference to many of the questions around which senate debate has centered, the President declaring he could not construe details of the treaty in a short address. He did not directly mention the Monroe doctrine, Shantung, or the obligations assumed under article 10 of the league covenant, nor did he allude to the proposal to write reservations into the ratification. He asserted also that he would have given opportunity to discuss details later, either with the whole senate or the foreign relations committee.

"My services and all the information I possess," said Mr. Wilson, "will be at your disposal and at the disposal of your committee on foreign relations at any time, either informally or in session, as you prefer, and I hope that you will not hesitate to make use of them."

United States isolation, the President asserted, was ended 20 years ago when the war with Spain put the nation in partial control of Cuba and the Philippines. But we have not exploited them, he continued; we have been their friends and have sought to serve them. There can be no question of our ceasing to be a world power. The only question is whether we shall accept or reject the confidence of the world. The stage is set, the destiny disclosed. It has come about by no plan of our conceiving, but by the hand of God, who has led us into this way. We cannot turn back. We can only go forward with lifted eyes and freshened spirit, to follow the vision.

Facing Terrible Cost Through High Taxation

Berlin.—Germany is to quickly return to a peace time financial system, said Matthias Erzberger, vice-chancellor and minister of finance, speaking at Weimar before the German national assembly. Among other things, the payment of grants to men who are unemployed will be reduced, it was indicated during his address.

"The empire's needs must be divided fenceforth between home needs and indemnities," he said. "The burdens of taxation will reach an absolutely terrible height. A floating debt of 72,000,000,000 marks is a constant danger, and the removal of this debt is one of our most urgent tasks. There are two ways in which we do it—either its conversion into a funded loan, or its extinction by big levies and a heavy property tax. I do not indulge the hope that these two ways will immediately yield the entire liquid amount of 72,000,000,000 marks. It is the duty of conquered people not only to bow to a state of compulsion, but to achieve an upward conviction as to the necessity of saving up all riches and all that is superfluous."

"Changes in the system of taxation will be speedily submitted to the national assembly, and this reform will represent the completion of the whole work."

"The world has denied us international justice. All the more passionately and energetically, however, will we work for the home land again, and flourishing in justice, concentrate our care and endeavor upon the poor, but just German."

"One of the first requirements relative to the restoration of the life of labor is the establishment of order—of finances. I will have nothing to do with suggestions for the annulment of loans."

French Favored Cause Of Jews

Asked That Conditions of Absolute Equality Be Granted Jews in New or Enlarged States

Paris.—M. Pichon, foreign minister, replying to a communication from members of the chamber of deputies asking information as to the attitude of France in the peace conference with regard to the Jews of Poland, Rumania and other countries, declares that, from the beginning of the conference, the French government endeavored to secure consideration of the Jewish question and had asked that conditions of absolute equality be granted Jews in new or enlarged states. These efforts, M. Pichon says, resulted in the treaty already signed by Poland guaranteeing complete liberty and equality to Jews in political and religious matters.

Deadlock at Kingston

Kingston, Ont.—Negotiations between the metal trades council, representing the Canadian Locomotive Co., have reached a deadlock, and the president has made a final offer of a 45-hour week, 54-hour pay, and the men have rejected the offer, insisting on a 44-hour week.

Unfit For Public

Columbus, O.—The Willard-Dempsey fight pictures may never be seen in public. In Ohio at least, they will not be placed on exhibition. The Ohio censor board officially rejected the pictures as being unfit to be exhibited in public. The probability of the pictures being shown in other states is believed to depend on what construction is to be placed upon the Rotterdam act, which prohibits prize fight pictures being handled in interstate commerce.

How to Make a Creamy Beauty Lotion for a Few Cents

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most restorative lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan from the face, neck, arms and hands.

Confectionery in Ancient Egypt

The invention of confectionery, an English writer guesses, is due to Noah, who "first hit on the idea of boiling down the starch of the wheat and the juice of the grape. The result was a paste, said to be the original of our present-day Turkish delight." Among the ancient Egyptians whole fruits, particularly figs and dates, were used for flavoring purposes, the latter especially for preserves and cakes. In old tombs date sweetmeats have been found, also records of honey jellies. The making of confectionery, in fact, goes back 3,400 years, proof of which is to be found on the walls of Egyptian tombs.

An Open Verdict

No Proof That Police Fired Fatal Shot in Winnipeg

Winnipeg.—That Mike Sokolowski came to his death during a riot on Saturday, June 23, as the result of receiving a bullet wound through the heart, fired by some person unknown, was the verdict of the coroner's jury sitting on the case. The verdict added that the evidence showed that a number of shots were fired by rioters and there was nothing to indicate that the shot which killed Sokolowski was fired by the police.

Germans Extend Franchise

Weimar.—The German national assembly is still debating the new constitution and has endorsed the article qualifying any male citizen, native or naturalized, who has reached the age of 35, for the office of president. The naturalization provision was included owing to the realignment of the German frontiers depriving many former German subjects of their nationality. The constitution provides that the president shall be chosen by popular vote.

RED HOT JULY DAYS HARD ON THE BABY

July—the month of oppressive heat; red hot days and sweltering nights, is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they come on suddenly to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to a well baby will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come suddenly will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Fires Caused By Lightning

Warning of Approaching Electric Storms By High Wires

How to prevent loss from forest fires started from lightning is the problem being worked out by the Forest Service of Oregon, U.S.A. In the last twelve years there has been a loss of $5,000,000 in Oregon and Washington from forest fires, of which 45 per cent. were of lightning origin. Sixty per cent. of the loss was caused by lightning fires. In New Mexico 65 per cent. of the forest of lightning origin, while 35 per cent. of the trees are killed by direct hits before they reach maturity. One of the methods proposed is to secure warning of approaching electric storms by high wires and other apparatus. On the first warning, patrol men can be got ready to fight the expected fires.

Royal Message By Dirigible

First British Airship to Cross Atlantic Brought Greetings to Canada

Ottawa.—The first British airship to cross the Atlantic brought a message of good wishes from the King to the people of Canada. The message was addressed to His Excellency the Governor-General, and reads as follows:

"Buckingham Palace, June 28th, 1919.

"To His Excellency,
"The Duke of Devonshire, K.C.,
"G.C.V., Governor-General and
"Commander-in-Chief of Canada.
"I take this opportunity of sending by the first British airship, R-34, to cross the Atlantic a message of good wishes to the people of Canada from the old country."
"(Signed) "GEORGE, R.I."

Anarchist Plot In Rome

Central Part of Ancient Capital Was to Be Attacked By Bombs

Rome.—An anarchist plot to attack the central part of Rome by means of hand grenades and other explosives has been exposed by the arrest of sixteen of the conspirators four hours before the time fixed for carrying out their plans.

About the same time thirty anarchists motored to Fort Portofino, four miles from Rome, and tried to induce the garrison to join in an attack in the Rome market place. The soldiers fired on the anarchists and seized several of them. The others fled. The city remains tranquil.

Wouldn't Stay Down

A British steamer, the Rubeicon, arrived in Boston harbor with a record of having been torpedoed and sunk three times. She was attacked 28 times and sank three submarines. Taking the example supplied by this ship and applying the slogan of the Salvation Army, "A man may be down, but he's never out," one can form quite a decent model upon which to build his life.

Austria Stands Alone

It was in the Palace of Versailles that Jean Bart, the noted privateer captain, was presented to the French King whom he had served so valiantly. He was the roughest of sea-dogs and as ready to defy etiquette as to brave the Atlantic Gales. Jean got tired of waiting for the King, and to the horror of the courtiers, pulled out his pipe and lighted up. Then the King came in, and, not knowing what else to do, told the gallant skipper that he might go on smoking. Then: "Jean Bart," said His Majesty, "I have just promoted you to the rank of Commodore."

Waited Forty-Nine Years

To Be Freed From Mailed Fist of Germans

Paris.—"We have waited 49 years for this moment," exclaimed Premier Clemenceau as he opened the fateful dispatch, announcing that Germany would sign the treaty.

"For forty-nine years," he continued, "the mailed fist of the Reiter (German trooper), who has governed Germany, has menaced the world. Whether the man's name was Bismarck or William II. it was still the same Reiter of the middle-ages, surrounded by soldiery and drunk with pride."

"Be careful; keep your powder dry. Be careful. Remind the world that it is living on a barrel of that powder."

"This Reiter's dogma was that might is right; that a state's only obligation is its own interest, that treaties do not exist when they clash with the interest of a state, and get rich by any means. We know from witnesses who were at the side of William II. that when he learned of the Sarajevo tragedy he, who posed as a keeper of the peace, cried: "The hour has struck. Now we shall see what an army is!"

President Wilson Favors Trial

Stated That He Agrees With Decision to Try Ex-Kaiser in London

Paris.—The question of the trial of former Emperor William was on the program for discussion by the Council of Three for several days while President Wilson was still in Paris. Reuter's Paris bureau declares, in an article regarding recent statements by the members of the United States peace mission that Premier Lloyd George's statement on the subject in the House of Commons had come as a surprise to them.

Reuter's, which says its information comes from authoritative conference sources, adds, however, that because of more urgent business coming up, the discussion of the question by the council was postponed. Nevertheless, the agency declares, it is known that President Wilson had expressed himself strongly as to the place for the holding of the trial, and it asserts that there is every reason to believe he was fully cognizant of the decisions to try the ex-emperor in London.

C.P.R. Offers Cup.

In connection with the International Soil Products Exposition, which will be held at Kansas, Mo., September 24th to October 4th, the Department of Colonization of the Canadian Pacific Railway is offering a silver cup of the value of $500 for the best half bushel of hard spring wheat exhibited. It is hoped that every farmer in Alberta, who has a good sample of wheat this year will submit a half bushel in this competition. Those competing for this cup will automatically become competitors for the prizes offered by the International Farming Congress in this class which include a first, second and third prize. In addition they have a chance of winning the sweepstakes for wheat. The winning sample of hard spring wheat is usually the best exhibit of wheat shown at the exposition and thus wins the sweepstakes prize, and the exhibits from Western Canada generally carry all before them in this class. Last year the C.P.R. cup, the sweepstakes for wheat and the first prize for hard spring wheat were won by Seager Wheeler, of Rosthern, Sask., with H.B. Sheeley, of High River, Alberta, a good second. No cup was offered by the C.P.R. in 1917, but the sweepstakes for wheat and first prize for hard spring wheat were won by Samuel Larcombe, of Birtle, Manitoba, in that year.

In addition to the above, other valuable prizes will be offered for every variety of field crops. Of late years farmers from Western Canada have carried away a lion's share of these prizes, and no doubt their exhibits will be conspicuous again this year. An official premium list of the exposition should be ready in a few days, and a copy can no doubt be obtained by writing to the Secretary of the International Farm Congress at Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Langdon relieved the woman of her baby and carried it back through the blinding snow to her home, followed by the mother, who was completely exhausted. Then Mrs. Langdon struggled back in the teeth of the storm for three-quarters of a mile, where she found the older child, whom they had grown heavier and heavier, and the blinding whirl of the snow confused her until she sank on the ground. Strong baking powder is needed

GOVERNMENT Standard flours are coarser and heavier than the flours you have been using for years, and they require a strong, reliable leavening agent.

Egg-O is a pure, strong, double-acting baking powder.

Its first action occurs in the mixing bowl when cold water or milk is added. Allowing the dough to stand for 15 or 20 minutes will give better results, and when you put your baking in the oven Egg-O will continue to rise, and you will have no trouble getting light bakings.

EGG-O Baking Powder

You can use sour milk, sweet milk, buttermilk or water with Egg-O—a different and better baking powder.
